

The Department of Communication Studies in collaboration with LAUNIMEDIA and the Mt. Stephen Club are pleased to present

A Conversation with

PETER LENKOV

Executive Producer of CSI: NY

PETER LENKOV, a former student in Communication Studies, returns to the Department to share his extensive professional experience as a successful writer and producer with students, faculty and staff. He began his professional career by writing the script for Demolition Man in 1993 that starred Sylvester Stallone, Wesley Snipes and Sandra Bullock. Since then he has written for and produced shows such as 24, La Femme Nikita and The District and is now the Executive Producer for CSI: NY. Peter will discuss his experiences and share his industry expertise while offering advice and suggestions for aspiring producers, directors and writers.

TODD VAN DER HEYDEN, a graduate of the Communication Studies Diploma program, and current news anchor for CTV Montreal, will interview Peter and moderate the Question and Answer segment.
